BRANFORD, MINN.

A PHILADELPHIA surgeon is reported to have dissected and mounted the complete nervous system of a human being. But was it the male or female nervous system?

The centenarians are proving to be almost as numerous as George Washington's body servants. Mrs. Miller, of St. Charles, Ill., now comes forward to claim that she is a gay young widow of 104 years old.

The counterfeit egg has become quite an article of trade in Philadelphia. It is said the clever manufacturers of these eggs imitate the real egg to the overpowering smell of bad ones.

GEN. DYRENFORTH says there no longer can be a doubt that his rain-producing scheme is a success. If it is true the general should lose no time in inventing a rain orake. A cloud-burst in Rensselaer county, New York, did $100,000 damage.

THERE is a story afloat that a St. Petersburg bar, whose master had plied with whisky, made a meal of said master by way of bacchanalian diversion. The foolish man should have known that beer is the proper drink for Bruin.

In Honduras the government owns the saloons, and drinkers who reach home so late that they have to feel all over the door for the keyhole can conscientiously declare to their questioning wives that they have been attending to public business.

RUSSIA and Germany are setting an excellent example in deputing competent officials to accompany the World's Fair envoys back to America to arrange for space on the exhibits of their respective Governments. It only remains for the other European Governments to follow their example.

In the stories both filthy and horrible now in circulation about the royal family of Austria are true, that the empress should show signs of insanity is not surprising. Nothing more revolting has been made public since the days of Nero and Commodus.

Er Emin Pasha is wise he will preserve a masterly silence nowadays. He should remember that he was "rescued" once from the identical spot where he now is; if he boasts too loudly some other brave lecturer may swoop down upon him.

The railroads are short of cars, the great grain elevators are running to their utmost capacity, and everything that has soil constant power and tonnage sufficient to carry a cargo of grain to Europe is under charter. It is a glorious year for Uncle Samuel and all his people.

HENRY COOK, tailor, of Norwich, Conn., is only a little fellow, but he will not need to make himself an overcoat this winter. He has only to wrap his eighty-six-inch long beard around him like a Scotch scarf and fasten it behind with a hair-pin.

The Canadian papers are disappointed because the census returns show their conservative dominion to have less than 5,000,000 people. They are wondering how they can stop the emigration of their people to the United States. Better chances at home might have some influence toward stopping the outgoing tendency.

A PORTSMOUTH, N. H., hen recently laid an egg which, on being opened, disclosed a 10-cent piece. This is the first fruits of the silver agitation among agriculturists. If a hen can lay 10-cent pieces there is no reason why a cow should not be set to coining trade dollars or yielding silver bricks.

WHAT is regarded as the most important paper read before the British association this year was one prepared by Dr. Strahan on the subject of instinctive criminality. He endorses the American system of giving criminals an indefinite sentence in an industrial home, instead of in a prison.

A NEW JERSEY town is excited over the coming marriage of a well-to-do man of 70 with a young lady of 28, whose sister is already married to the old man's son. Such a wedding, it is true, will mix the families up a little, but there is no trace of intermarriage about it, and as for the rest, weddings are, or should be, affairs not at all the business of the public.

News comes from the South that the house at Appomattox, Va., in which General Lee surrendered to General Grant has been sold for $10,000. The parties purchasing, it is said, are representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic, and it is reported that that organization intends to hold an encampment at the historic spot, as several hundred acres of land in the vicinity have been purchased by the same parties that bought the house.

A REMARKABLE instance of a dog's sagacity has just been reported from Indiana. A large English setter was "making point" at a fish that was chasing minnows in the shallow water of a lake near a small boat pier. A bystander told the dog to "lie in," and in he jumped; his head went down in the water and he threw a large fish high in the air. It fell in the water, and he caught it again and brought it to shore. It was a bass, and tipped the beam at two and a half pounds.

The barmaids of Berlin have started an organ, the Herzbliatt. It offers opportunities for literary work and for the disclosure of cases of ill-treatment. The subscribers form a material aid society to help needy members, to secure places and to appeal to the courts if necessary. Whoever is unkind to the members of the organ will have his name published, and if he is wealthy, a copy of the publication will be sent to the authorities of his university.

That it is dangerous to stand near a tall tree or spire during a thunder storm; that the southwest corner of the cellar is the "cyclone safety-point"; that there is no medicine so universally applicable to sickness as fresh air and sunshine; that blowing out the gas, before retiring, is funny—to everybody, except the man who tries it; that you may swear as hard as you please, but it will not remove grease spots; that the Wisconsin Central is the most popular route to Milwaukee, Chicago, and points East and South.—Jan. 2, '92.
